

'BLACK WEEW END' FOR BRITISH ARMS

11 Soldiers Killed and 11 Wounded in Ambushes by Irish Rebels

OPPONENTS HIT, ALSO

Lose 13 in Slay and Have 10 Injured; Isolated Murders Not Included in Count

DUBLIN, March 20.—A "black wee w end" has just been experienced by the crown forces in Ireland, according to official reports. Eleven members of the government forces were killed and 11 wounded in various ambushes, while it is believed that 12 of the assailants were killed and ten wounded. The reports do not take into account isolated murders and outrages, which are continuously reported. Captain Atkinson, an Ulster barrister who acted as judge in a number of recent Dublin court martials, was attacked at his home Saturday night by three armed men. He was wounded. John Sheehan, a former attendant at the Cork lunatic asylum, was shot dead at Cork last night. He had been suspected of giving information last December, on the occasion of the arrest of a girl wearing steel armor, concerning a republican arsenal. This was the second time Sheehan had been attacked. He received several wounds when the first attempt was made.

DETAILS OF KINSALE AMBUSH ARE GIVEN

DUBLIN, March 20.—The ambush of crown forces near Kinsale, county Cork, Saturday occurred when reinforcements were proceeding to seek a military officer and a police sergeant who were missing as a result of a previous ambush. It was learned today. The missing officer has been recovered, but the body of the sergeant has been found near Dungarvan, blindfolded and riddled with bullets. A card pinned to his breast was inscribed "executed." Crowds today gazed curiously at a man chained to the railing of the pro-cathedral in Marlborough street but no one attempted to liberate him until the police came. It was said he had been chained there because he worked during the executions of six men in Mount Joy prison on March 14 in disobedience to the call for a cessation of labor. The archbishop of Tuam in a letter to the parish priest in Clifden condemns the shooting of policemen there as a reprisal of the Mount Joy executions. The archbishop repeats his appeal for a truce and urges the government, as the stronger side, to call a truce and initiate peace negotiations.

'Mary Jane' of Buster Brown Cartoons, Weds Nephew of Pershing

NEW YORK, March 20.—Miss Mary Jane Outcault, known as "Mary Jane" of the Buster Brown cartoons, which her father, Richard Felton Outcault, created, was married today to Frank Edward Pershing, nephew of General John J. Pershing. The wedding, which took place in "the little church around the corner" was a surprise to the two families, although it was known they were to be married soon.

COMBINATION IN INDUSTRY URGED

Baruch Recommends Encouragement on This Line by U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Encouragement by the government of permanent, intimate combinations or associations in industry under federal supervision is recommended in the final report of the war industries board, just completed by R. M. Baruch of New York, who was the board's chairman. The report holds that great public benefit in the way of prices and abundance of goods resulting from economies in production and distribution are capable of being effected through the mutual co-operation of members of industrial groups as was done during the war, and that the present government policy of enforced isolation and costly competition is not conducive to the general welfare. Pointing out that the same power born of association that makes for potential benefit may also make for potential injustice, the report recommends that there be created some sort of government agency which shall supervise such associations, both for the purpose of promoting their beneficial possibilities and checking their opposite potentialities. Specifically, the report recommends that purely as a civic measure legislation be adopted that will permit the continued functioning of the industrial group represented by the war service committees and the related association of manufacturers whose establishment was forced by the war exigency.

2 DEAD, 4 LOST IN GRAIN BLAST

Loss to Chicago Plant to Total About Million and Half Dollars

CHICAGO, March 20.—Two persons are known to be dead and four others are missing as a result of the grain dust explosion which rocked South Chicago last night and wrecked one of the world's largest grain elevators. One body was removed from the debris a few hours after the blast and the second was found today.

Officials of the Armour Grain company which operated the elevator said that it might be several days before it could be definitely determined how many met death in the disaster as their records containing lists of men employed at the plant had been destroyed by the fire which followed the explosion. Besides the two bodies recovered, only four men remained unaccounted for tonight and it was believed that these may have been buried beneath the thousands of tons of grain released by the blast. All of the victims were workers employed at the elevator.

John C. McConnell, chief of the fire prevention bureau, said that his investigation had convinced him that the explosion was due to spontaneous combustion which ignited the inflammable mill dust. He discarded reports that it might have been due to labor trouble.

Engineers who inspected the elevator which is located at the southern limits said that the damage to the structure would approximate $1,500,000. The value of the grain destroyed was estimated at $1,000,000.

Mexican Oil General to Visit U. S. Soon

MEXICO CITY, March 20.—General Manuel Pelaez, for many years in charge of military affairs in the Tampico district, before departing from Mexico City last night announced that he would visit the United States in the near future and then go to London. Although General Pelaez declared his visit would be of a private character, it is rumored here he is going on a mission for the government.

TAKE P. O. OUT OF POLITICS

Will Hays Promises Square Deal to All Concerned
CHICAGO, March 20.—The elimination of politics and the extension of the civil service in the postoffice department were pledged by Will H. Hays, postmaster general and former chairman of the republican national committee, in two speeches here today.

"My purposes are to take the postal service out of politics, to make such rectifications as in all decency and fairness must be made to assure a square deal and to strengthen and broaden the civil service and to put the entire postal service upon a purely business basis so sound and serviceable that no political party will ever again dare to attempt to ignore or evade it," he declared.

FORTUNE HUNTERS SEEK LOST CACHE

Tulsa Man Worried by the Actions of Gangs Tearing Up Farm

The fact that notorious outlaws formerly made Oklahoma a hiding place for their loot is causing a great deal of worry to Frank H. Reed of this city, who owns a number of farms in Seminole county. His land, however, has been torn up by We-woka that one of his places is being ruined by treasure seekers and the prospects are that unless the buried gold is found soon, the farm will be rendered valueless.

On one of his farms was recently discovered a large, flat rock in an old creek bed, and on the rock is carved: "Cole Younger, Dec. 22nd, 1871." Beneath the inscription is the carving of a Winchester rifle point.

HAD NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Mrs. Ireland Permits us to Publish this Letter for the Benefit of Others Who Are in Her Condition

Warsaw, Missouri.—"For five years I was weakly, nervous and in a run-down condition. Then I had a nervous breakdown and doctors said I would never be well again. After I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was healthier, stronger and felt better than I ever did in my life before. I can't praise the Compound enough and will recommend it to all women. You may publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. FLOYD IRELAND, R. R. 1, Warsaw, Mo.

Nervous women are both jailing and wretched, and with a nervous breakdown all joy goes out of a woman's life. It is said that the ill peculiar to women act on the nerves like a fire-brand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is successful in overcoming such conditions, and a large number of American women who were once great sufferers from nerve troubles owe their present health and comfort to it and it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

"Absolutely! you can't possibly employ your money, John, to better advantage and feel as well satisfied. Keep your money here at home. This dividend check is proof of my endorsement of the Public Service Company's Prior-Lien stock."

Stolen Loot Buried Near

The discovery has led many people to believe that Cole Younger, who was a notorious outlaw, had buried treasure somewhere near, and many excited wealth seekers have been digging up the surrounding fields. Mr. Reed's tenant kept them out for a time, but they would return at night while he was asleep and dig. Now the herd has become so large that he has given up the effort of trying to protect the land and says in a short time that there will be nothing on the place but large holes, unless someone discovers the treasure soon.

Fresh recruits are continually arriving and Mr. Reed's manager ad-

THE MERRY JOURNEYS OF MARY JANE

"I bet you don't know what I had for lunch!"
Mary Jane says to Joe Bluejay

Mary Jane and Joe Bluejay
ONE fine day when Spring had come and old Fatty Bullfrog had started to tell people "You-better-go-round—You-better-go-round" Mary Jane met Joe Bluejay.

Joe was sitting at the edge of a twig making faces and calling names at Tabby White-nose, the cat. Tabby had a very bad temper anyhow, and what Joe said to her didn't make it any better.

Mary Jane drove tabby away and told Joe he ought to know better than to start a rum-pus on a beautiful Spring day like that. Joe said he knew it, but old Whiteface was too smart anyway.

Mary Jane said "Well you know a lot, but I bet you don't know what I had for lunch." And Joe said what did she have for lunch.
